INSTRUCTIONAL TECHNOLOGY ASSISTANT

DEFINITION

Under the direct supervision of an administrator, performs a variety of instructional support services, including instructional technology support to improve student academic achievement, and performs other related work as required or assigned.

ESSENTIAL DUTIES

- assists students by providing a variety of instructional technology activities, and by presenting various technology based instructional materials designed to enhance the learning process
- provides tutoring to students as outlined in teacher's lesson plans or instructional plan
- reports student progress information to the teacher toward the accomplishment of learning objectives
- monitors student academic progress and keeps the classroom teacher apprised of student achievement
- assists in the preparation of a variety of technology based instructional materials and learning aides for individual use, or for small groups of students
- assists in effective use of instructional software in the classroom
- troubleshoots and resolves problems with microcomputer equipment; computers, printers, scanners, digital cameras and handheld digital equipment; interacts with vendor service support in the troubleshooting process
- troubleshoots and resolves problems with site software utilized for instructional technology assistance
- maintains inventory of instructional technology materials

Knowledge of: Methods, procedures, and techniques pertaining to a computer; software application standards; operating systems; software troubleshooting techniques; operation of peripherals, such as printers, scanners and modems; English usage, spelling, grammar, punctuation and mathematical processes.

Ability to: Demonstrate an understanding, patient and receptive attitude toward students in an educational setting; communicate effectively in oral and written form; perform and operate a variety of microcomputer and peripheral equipment; utilize a variety of appropriate technology based instructional materials in the enhancement of a positive educational environment; effectively tutor and instruct students in the use of various instructional technologies; demonstrate standard keyboarding touch techniques (fingers, posture, eyes on copy); understand and carry out oral and written directions; establish and maintain cooperative working relationships.

Rialto Unified School District INSTRUCTIONAL TECHNOLOGY ASSISTANT

Page 2

PHYSICAL DEMANDS

The physical requirements listed below are examples of the physical aspects that persons within this position must perform in carrying out essential job functions.

- will frequently exert 10 to 20 pounds of force to lift, carry, push, pull or otherwise move objects
- will stand and sit most of the time, but may walk for brief periods of time; will occasionally be required to bend, stoop, crouch, kneel, reach above shoulder level
- must possess the ability to hear and perceive the nature of sound
- must possess visual acuity and depth perception
- must be capable of providing written and oral information, both in person and over the telephone
- must possess the manual dexterity to operate business-related and instructional technology equipment and to handle and work with various objects and materials

Reasonable accommodation may be made to enable a person with a disability to perform the essential functions of the job

Education: Verification of a High School diploma, a GED certificate, or a higher degree.

Must meet the No Child Left Behind Act requirements by passing the District academic assessment which demonstrates the knowledge and ability to assist in teaching Reading, Writing, and Mathematics.

Experience: Six months experience working with computer-assisted instruction, educational technology, or closely related programs. Basic troubleshooting skills desirable.

Licenses and Certificates: A valid Class C California Driver's License is required.

Condition of Employment: Insurability by the District's liability insurance carrier may be required.

11/2015:ys