Class Schedules: A-G Requirements

You do not have to know what you want to do for the rest of your life as a teenager. You can change course on your journey at any time, and many people change course more than once.

Class schedules are created in order to give our students the greatest number of options for life after high school. Not everyone wants to go to college, but everyone should be prepared to do so if they make that choice at some point in their journey.
